

Fort Ross Conservancy thanks the many volunteers, State Parks staff, and partners who made Fort Ross Festival possible. Events such as these are important because they bring diverse people together to share a meal and a song, enjoying the fresh air and old-world ways of this rough but glorious landscape. May Fort Ross continue to provide the common ground and shared history that brings us all -- Kashia Native Californian and Alaska Native, Russian, American, and Russian-American, together.

Join us for Harvest Festival, October 18th to celebrate Fort Ross' multicultural seasonal abundance. In partnership with Fort Ross-Seaview Winegrowers & Fort Ross Conservancy, day includes optional access to the Grand Wine Tasting tent and/or 4-course Grand Luncheon with wine pairing (advanced reservation required).
